Monday February 22nd at 1:30pm on ZOOM

Hear from Aldred Neufeldt what it was like growing up in a small Mennonite community in northern Saskatchewan in the forest during the 1940s- where the Great Depression lingered. Aldred reflects on what it was like to live in a log house built by his Father, run along deer trails, navigate the social dynamics of a small one room school; and understand how diverse personalities of his extended family helped shape his own identity.

Told with a zest and keen eye for humorous detail, Horse Lake Chronicles immerses readers/listeners in a way of life now scarcely remembered, and in doing so invites us to reflect on our origins and pathways to adulthood.
